THE ATTITUDE OF BRITAIN ON DISARMAMENT

London, Eng.—“We are endeavoring to translate into practical form the overwhelming desire and passionate hope of the British people to make disarmament an accomplished fact.”

To a world perplexed with the assertions of various powers concerning the vital question of disarmament, whose efforts towards that end have thus far met with small success, Sir John Simon made the foregoing statement in a speech in a crowded House of Commons.

It was significant that the British government chose, through its foreign secretary, to announce its attitude to the disarmament problem on the eve of Armistice Day. “A far-reaching of Germany's claims on the principle of equality,” was favored by Sir John, who pleaded that “the European states should join in a solemn affirmation that they will not in any circumstances attempt to resolve any present or future difference by resort to force.”

Recognition of the right to parity in arms would entail on Germany, along with others, the acceptance of this corresponding obligation of an assurance of peace. Sir John recognized the fact that the arms limitations imposed on Germany by the Treaty of Versailles were to be preliminary to a general limitation of arms. It was not the desire of other countries to inflict permanent disabilities upon Germany but the hesitancy to change the Versailles Treaty restrictions was from anxiety as to the developments that might arise from the resulting situation, with the possible disturbing of the tranquility of Europe.

These further principles were laid down on behalf of the government of Great Britain: 1. That the limitation of Germany's armaments by special provisions in the Treaty of Versailles should be superseded. Any limitation of Germany's armaments should be expressed in a document that would at the same time limit the armaments of other nations.

2. The duration of such a disarmament convention should be the same for Germany as for other countries. 3. The British Government was willing in co-operation with other members of the disarmament conference to see the principle of equality in the prohibited categories of armaments (chemical warfare, etc.) was embodied in the new document.

Railway Co-Operation

C.N.R. President Believes Two Systems Should Be Under Separate Management

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's two major railway systems should co-operate to avoid wasteful expenditures but remain under separate management, S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National Railways, to the senate committee reviewing railway legislation, proposed recently.

The National president sent the following telegram to Senator George P. Graham, chairman of the committee: “Canadian National has no particular further representations to make as situation stands at present but desires to reiterate our conviction that the two systems should be under separate management but in active co-operation with a view to avoidance of any wasteful expenditures and sound competition.”

E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will appear before the committee next week to make representations. Officials of the Labor unions also will appear next week but Mr. Hungerford's telegram requested the Canadian National was not seeking to make representations.

Banker Fails Bandit

Vancouver Hold-Up Is Frustrated By Action Of Bank Manager

Vancouver, B.C.—Less than two hours after a lone gunman attempted to hold up the Sixteenth Avenue and Oak Street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, police arrested a suspect who is being held for questioning.

The man was arrested at his home by officers, who stated that on searching his room they found a revolver from which a bullet had been fired recently.

Quick thinking and prompt action by E. Devereaux, manager of the branch, foiled the holdup attempt and demonstrated again that the manager was no easy mark for “stick ups.”

Shortly before noon a man entered the bank carrying a satchel. Going to Devereaux's desk he pointed a gun at the manager. Devereaux immediately dropped behind the counter and reached for his revolver. The bandit fired one shot and fled in a car, which was recovered by police 20 minutes later and discovered to have been stolen from H. Wright.

On July 28 last two men entered the bank and attempted to hold up Devereaux. The manager rushed into the office and fired several shots through the window to attract attention, frightening the bandits, who fled in a waiting car.

New Rules Issued

Conditions Under Which Civil Servants May Hold Municipal Offices

Ottawa, Ont.—The government has issued new regulations under which civil servants may hold municipal offices. The order applies throughout Canada.

In all cases permission must be secured from Ottawa before a civil servant contests a municipal election. If the post he seeks carries a salary or remuneration of $500 or less may hold it without severing his connection with the government.

If the salary is above that figure, he must leave of absence without pay, devoting his full time to the municipal office.

Caught In Flood Of Oil

Two Men Drowned In Peculiar Accident At Montreal

Montreal, Que.—Caught in a flood of fuel oil, Francis Bourgeois, 45, and another man were drowned at the place of the Imperial Oil Company when a huge tank containing 30,000 barrels of fuel oil burst.

The men were digging nearby, standing in an excavation several feet deep. The gush of oil from the broken tank overwhelmed them and both died before help arrived. Details as to how the tank broke were not immediately available, but it was stated there was no explosion of any kind. One body was recovered.

Build More Elevators

Vancouver Only Port In The World To Increase Elevator Capacity

Vancouver, B.C.—By December 15, Vancouver's grain elevator capacity will be approximately 1,600,000 bushels greater than at present, this being the only port in the world today where additional elevator construction is being installed.

Three additions to grain elevators are nearing completion, two of which are expected to be finished by December 1. Thus, Vancouver's present capacity of 16,250,000 bushels will be increased to 17,850,000 bushels.

Labor Statistics

471,668 Canadians Were Unemployed On June Last

Ottawa, Ont.—On June 1, 1931, the date of the Dominion-wide census, Canada's unemployed total stood at 471,668, according to a return tabled by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in the House of Commons. The wage-earners numbered 2,564,570, of whom 81.39 per cent were at work.

The number of “unemployed in the ordinary meaning of the term” was 362,809, or 15.32 of all wage-earners, since these persons recorded themselves to have “no job.” In the House of Commons, the number of unemployed was 467,000, or 18.32 of all wage-earners, since these persons recorded themselves to have “no job.” In the House of Commons, the number of unemployed was 467,000, or 18.32 of all wage-earners, since these persons recorded themselves to have “no job.”

Of the wage-earners, 2,017,606 were males, and 547,273 females. Of the former, 422,994 were not at work, and of the latter, 46,674.

MAJORITY FOR ROOSEVELT MAY PROVE RECORD

Washington—Backgrounding the election of Franklin Delano Roosevelt as United States president by what promises to be the greatest electoral majority in the history of the United States, Democratic supremacy in the next House of Representatives placed the three-to-one mark as completion of vote-counting near.

Meanwhile the party figures in the senate approached the border of a two-to-one margin.

Some 70 house seats remained to be heard from, however.

It looked as though Democratic majorities would be increased instead of decreased, but there was nothing finally conclusive as to the final line-up.

From Connecticut to the state of Washington, the mighty roar of Democratic ballots that bore the New York Governor to presidency over Herbert Hoover, took heavy and hourly growing toll of “G.O.P.” legislators, some of them veterans of many years at the capitol.

Outstanding among the latest Republican old guard victims were the veteran Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington, and Senator Taker L. Odell of Nevada.

Their victories Democratic advantage were House T. Bone, and Patrick A. McCarthy. Other familiar figures who fell before the Democratic hurricane were Reed Smoot of Utah, dean of the senate, where he has served for 30 years; George H. Moses for New Hampshire, present term; James E. Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, and Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, administration stalwart.

The lineup for the short session of the present congress, which expires March 4, was in doubt, with the Democrats holding 48 seats, the Republicans 46, and leading in one.

Still For Prohibition

Andrew Volstead Has Not Changed His Viewpoint

St. Paul, Minn.—Andrew J. Volstead said he was still convinced prohibition is the thing for the United States.

Asked to comment on gains made by the wets in the election, he replied: “I have seen too many elections to believe that anything is going to change to me. I am still for prohibition.” He refused to amplify.

Volstead, co-author of the dry act, retaining his name, is legal adviser to the district prohibition administrator here.

Wife Of Stalin Is Dead

Most Powerful Figure In Soviet Russia Is Bereaved

Moscow, Russia.—Nadya Allilueva, wife of Joseph Stalin, most powerful figure in all Soviet Russia, but herself a retiring woman who plays plain, is dead.

The Tass agency, official Soviet news organization, announced her death but gave no details.

She was 30 years old. Only a few months ago she had completed a three-year course at the All-Union Industrial Academy which qualified her as an expert in the production of artificial silk and made her eligible to high administrative-technical post in an important section of the Soviet textile industry.

In addition to Stalin, their two children—a boy of 12 and a girl of seven—survive her. There also is a stepchild, Stalin's son by a previous marriage, who is 23.

Militia Men Stationed At Federal Penitentiaries In West

Winnipeg, Man.—Stock-holding militia men, with full field equipment and machine guns, are stationed at federal penitentiaries in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Twenty-five men were in each detachment to leave Winnipeg fully equipped and supplied with a plentiful quantity of ammunition. The troops were dispatched to Prince Albert carried a truck load of ammunition, while both detachments had machine guns.

There are nearly 600 convicts at Prince Albert, while those housed at Stony Mountain total 1800. Borden, probably near the thousand mark.

Table Supplementary Estimates In House

Total Of $1,534,957 Added For Present Fiscal Year

Ottawa, Ont.—Further supplementary estimates for the present fiscal year, totalling $1,534,957, were tabled in the House of Commons by Hon. E. B. Hughes, Minister of Finance.

The largest single item in the list is an appropriation of $975,000, a further amount required for unemployment relief under the administration of the Department of Pensions and Unemployment Insurance.

BRITAIN READY TO AID CAUSE OF WORLD PEACE

London, Eng.—Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council and leader of the Conservatives in the House of Commons, told guests at the Lord Mayor's banquet, Great Britain would make no further step towards disarmament without similar moves on the part of other nations.

Mr. Baldwin, speaking in place of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who was absent on doctor's orders, declared: “The time has come to an end when Britain can proceed with unilateral disarmament.”

He added, however, that the United Kingdom was ready at any time to join other nations in plans which might reduce armaments and bring assurance of world peace.

The Conservative leader pleaded for settlement of the war debt problem. “It is essential to the world that ratification of the Lausanne settlements on reparations should now become possible and the work begun there should be completed,” he said.

He added he wished the success which had attended the Lausanne party had been reflected in the world disarmament conference, but reminded his hearers that in accordance with the terms of the “gentlemen's agreement,” fulfillment of the accords reached at Lausanne depends on a more lenient debt settlement between creditor and debtor nations.

Mr. Baldwin turned to affairs within the empire and to prospects of increased prosperity in empire countries as a result of the Ottawa economic conference.

Of this conference he said: “Patience, forbearance, sympathy and a sense of one another's requirements, we believe, laid the foundations leading to increased trade between us by lowering economic barriers.”

WHEAT CROP ESTIMATE AT A LOWER FIGURE

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's total wheat crop is now estimated at 35,800,000 bushels less than it was in September, by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In a report released Thursday afternoon, November 10, the total wheat crop for the entire Dominion was placed at 431,200,000 bushels compared with September's estimate of 467,000,000. Most of the decrease is in the prairie provinces where Thursday's estimate was 41,000,000, and in the September estimate 446,000,000.

Not only are the estimates for wheat down but for other grains as well. In the prairie provinces the estimate for oats is now placed at 247,000,000 bushels. In September it was estimated at 274,700,000 bushels.

“The obvious explanation for the reduction,” the report states, “lies in the impossibility of estimating the effect of drought and other depressing influences on yield until actual threshing operations were in progress.”

The heavy marketings up to date must indicate that the correspondents on whose returns the estimate is based, have been unduly pessimistic, the report explains.

The crop report Thursday was eagerly awaited by western members of the House of Commons. “It may help the price of wheat some,” one of them suggested.

For Sound Money

Bennett Scores Propagators Of New Monetary System

Toronto, Ont.—The credit of Canada has been preserved to an extent that it stands pre-eminent among the nations of the world. From Prime Minister R. B. Bennett came this declaration in a speech before the Ontario Conservative association annual banquet.

“To the propagators of a new monetary system for the use of printing presses to turn out more dollar bills, Premier Bennett issued a rebuke. “If we do it we destroy that which is its credit, and once you do that the appetite for more becomes insatiable.”

That it took about 3,000,000 marks to start a letter.

Doubts Conference Benefits

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Says Agreement Must Be Signed

Ottawa, Ont.—“If the 1930 Imperial Conference was humbug, the last Imperial Conference was a double-edged, double-distilled quinquina of humbug,” declared Hon. W. R. Motherwell (Lib., Melville), in the House of Commons. He continued debate on reading of the bill to ratify the Canada-United Kingdom trade agreement.

He was opposed to the agreement, and for the reason that the Great Britain was to give a preference with one hand and taken it away with the other, when he insisted that the wheat be sold at world prices. Mr. Motherwell said: “The only way to secure a preference was by way of a quota.”

He had looked for some remedial action on the part of the British government in connection with the necessity of routing Canadian grain by Canada ports in order to obtain the preference. He could not believe that the government would knowingly interfere with a long-established trade route, via Buffalo and New York.

It would cost twice as much to convey the wheat by way of Halifax and Saint John, in the increased costs of change and storage. While he was prepared to patronize Canadian ports, he did not wish to do so at a price of four or five cents extra in the way of exportation.

Mr. Motherwell felt that the government's first act at the conference should have been to adjust the exchange rate. “It could not be achieved among ‘members of the same family,’ how did the Prime Minister hope to attain it at an international conference among foreigners?”

For World Peace

A Peaceful Atlantic All That Is Needed Says Premier of France

Let Britain and America "give us a peaceful Atlantic" and we, single handed, will guarantee the peace of the world," Premier Herriot told the Anglo-American Press Association in Paris in a speech in which he compared international peace with marriage.

"Peace is like marriage between two countries," Herriot said. "Each gives formal promises to respect mutual rights."

"I have been foreign minister several times, but I have been a mayor for many years," Herriot said. "Let us be mayors of Lyons for 27 years. As a mayor, one asks for people whether they wish to live in peace and harmony together."

Herriot said he had been a lifelong pacifist, but a practical one. "I don't intend building a castle of illusions in the skies," he said. "I want a practical, mutual peace machine built on the solid ground of Europe."

"As a Frenchman, I have a proposition to make to you British and Americans. Give us a peaceful Atlantic, and we, single handed, will guarantee the peace of the world."

Evidence of Herring Find Near Churchill

Species Appear To Be Same As Caught On Norway Coast

Discovery of evidence that the herring is to be found in Hudson Bay was told by John Ingebrigtsen, Norwegian fisherman, who arrived in the city after spending several months at Churchill, from whence he cruised against the west coast of the bay while on fishing and freighting trips.

Discovery of the herring was made by Ingebrigtsen at Senary Island, 160 miles north of Churchill. He had found some of the fish washed up on shore. They were apparently eight inches in length and appeared to be of the same species as are caught by fishermen on the coast of Norway.

He took a few samples picked up on the shore to Churchill. He was not equipped with the proper nets to catch any of the herring.

Ingebrigtsen said he had also found this summer a new kind of bait useful for bay fishing. It was a small fish apparently plentiful in the bay waters. He thinks perhaps it is a species of capelin. It is the third kind of bait he has found useful in the bay having discovered two kinds while out last summer.

Gas Lighting Still Used

London Has Fifty Thousand Street Lamps Lighted Every Night

You would think, perhaps, that gas illumination belongs to a disappearing epoch—didn't Robert Louis Stevenson write a poem about Lights and Lamps—lighter? Yet the Gas Light and Coke Company, of London, still carries on, and lights every night nearly 50,000 street lamps. It has just signed a contract with the City of Westminster—that rich municipality which is really one of London's main arteries, and which amongst its 50 miles of streets, contains such famous ones as Pall Mall, Piccadilly, Regent Street and Whitehall—for another year.

A great contract, if you like, affecting more than half the West End of London and the Gas Light and Coke Company recently took a few half-pence in the most expensive papers to announce the fact.

World Is "Coming Back"

Recovery Will Be Hastened If Everyone Does Their Bit

Nothing is more sure than that the world is "coming back." Besides the fact that old "cosmos" has wangled through a dozen or more such crises, there is in the air every sign of returning recuperation. "The fig tree putteth forth her green again, and the vine with tender grapes give a good smell." For, to the winter is past and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land. The recovery will be hastened, in the meantime if those of us who have not yet perceived the coming of the dawn will close our mouths, take a hitch on our belts and to what our hands are set with our might. Let us do less talking and more real work—B. Davidson.

ALL ROADS LED TO LONDON BUT THE MARCHERS OUTSTAYED THEIR WELCOME

Our pictures show two small groups of hunger marchers who descended upon the British capital intent on presenting a petition to the House of Commons. They were unsuccessful and after giving the London police an anxious time for three days departed for home. Left, one of the women demonstrators is given a lift by one of the men from Brighton. Right, some of the boys in the vanguard carry the banner and march to the tunes from a harmonica.

Cleaning Royal Clocks

Twenty-Four Men Now Busy At Buckingham Palace

Twenty-four men are busy at Buckingham Palace giving the king's clocks their autumn clothe.

The work will occupy two months, for they will clean and adjust every one of the wonderful collection of more than 160 clocks at the palace.

Even then most of the clocks in the royal collection will remain to be done, for at Windsor Castle there are another 360 belonging to the king, as well as about 250 more at Sandringham and Balmoral and other royal residences.

The king's favorite timepiece is a small clock with a plain mahogany case and a simple plain dial, on the clock of his study in Buckingham Palace, where he does much of his official work. It has been in his possession for many years, and by it he regulates his many audiences and interviews.

The king is one of the most punctual men in the country, and is never late for an official function or a private engagement, so that all the palace clocks must be accurate. It is an expert's duty to wind and adjust them every day.

The most curious clock in the collection is the one made in France in the time of Louis XV, in the form of a negro's head, with one eye showing the hour and the other the minute.

While great care is taken at Buckingham Palace to keep every clock accurate, at Sandringham, the king's estate in Norfolk, every clock is half an hour fast.

The generally accepted explanation for this is that King Edward wished to make it easier for himself to be late for engagements, but the real reason is that King Edward, impatiently waiting for the autumn days when most of his shooting was done, forestalled summer time by advancing the clocks to be advanced when custom has been maintained ever since.

Has Sense Of Humor

Gandhi Had Clever Reply Ready For Blustering American

It is difficult to associate Mr. Gandhi with a sense of humor, but an artist who painted him while he was in London told of a rather blustering American who burst in while the Mahatma was absorbed in meditation, reading the News of the World. "Say, Mr. Gandhi," said the visitor, "what good would it do if your country was freed from the English? You would fall into the hands of the Germans or the French or the Russians in no time." "Would that matter?" asked Gandhi, "if we were able to keep out of the hands of the Americans?"

No Thanks To Him

"This is a wonderful suit I am wearing!"

"It looks very ordinary." "But the wool came from Australia. English merchants sold it to a Russian factory. It was woven in Italy, made into a suit in Berlin."

"Nothing wonderful about that." "No, the underwear is that as many people can get a living out of something I have never paid for!"

Airport Of The Skies

Plan Hugs Overhead Aerodrome In London, England

An overhead aerodrome in the shape of a gigantic wheel half a mile in diameter, at an estimated cost of £25,000,000, is a proposal of London promoters, who hope to have a bill introduced in parliament in the near future for permission to build it. The proposed airport of the skies is to be supported by 36 skycrapers, in the heart of Central London, over the railway lines behind King's Cross and St. Pancras stations.

The scheme as outlined by W. Craven-Kills, Conservative, M.P. for Southampton, one of the promoters, is as follows:

There will be eight spokes in the wheel design of the overhead aerodrome so that aeroplanes can always land no matter what direction the wind. Each spoke and surrounding rim will be 300 feet wide—three times the width of London Bridge.

The 36 buildings which will form the legs of the aerodrome will be 120 feet high and will be used as warehouse, factories for light industries, flats and offices. One of them will be a hotel. The flats will house 800 families at a rental of 10 shillings a week.

License Suspended For Life

Punishment Imposed By English Magistrate On Drunken Driver

Captain Harry St. Clair Drayson, who had a fine career in the war, was convicted in England by the Southbridge bench of magistrates on the charge of driving a motor car when under the influence of drink, was fined $500 or two months' imprisonment, and his driver's license was suspended for the remainder of his life. It was his third conviction on similar charges since 1927.

After the war he was associated with Lord Byrd in connection with the distribution of the United Service Fund, and then went to British West Africa, where he contracted malaria.

British Millers Grind Own Wheat

Since the commencement of the present crop year British mills have been using a high percentage of Canadian wheat—undoubtedly the largest percentage since 1928. The re-establishment of a high percentage of Canadian wheat in the mixtures used by British mills is a factor of importance, says a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Manitoba Sells Barley To British Buyers

Representative Pleased With Samples From Swan River Valley

A representative of the Associated Brewers has been in Manitoba for some time, securing a shipment of 60,000 bushels of Manitoba barley to try out for malting purposes. He has secured shipments from all parts of the province and is taking three carloads from the following: C. W. Banks, Benito; C. H. Goodman, Benito; Wm. Gordon, Kenilworth.

Major Shaw expressed himself as very pleased with the Valley samples, and if he can possibly do so will arrange to pay a visit to Swan River before he returns to England.

Some of these shipments are being sacked and kept separate from the balance of the grain shipped, so that a detailed report can be given as to their suitability for malting purposes.

Sound Rule For Driving

If Driver "Watches Other Fellow" Safety Is Assured

One of the sound rules for safe driving is to "watch the other fellow." When we turn the habit of doing just that we keep our eyes on the road ahead. When we keep our eyes on the road ahead it is ever so much easier to keep our minds on the all-important job of driving safely. Watching the other fellow develops a new interest in him, too. It fosters a badly needed highway courtesy. It is a constant reminder that the road is owned by all, and not by a single driver. It tells us that the other fellow has equal rights with our own, and that we must respect these rights if we do so at our own peril—Brandon Sun.

English is being taught Germans of Bavaria through singing. Explained in this way, the system of instruction was originated by a Bavarian schoolmaster, imported from China, who says it was successful there.

Plays Under a Handicap

Football Star Although Deaf Gels Signs By Finger System

Football signals given in sign language is something new for the gridiron.

But that is the way Bibbo Monaghan, big blonde deaf and dumb right end of the Memphis Tigers, professional football team, learns what the next play is to be.

He lost his hearing when he was seven. He can talk, but his voice has the unnatural sound peculiar to deaf persons. To hear Bibbo talk, deafness is a great help.

"I don't waste my breath talking," he explains. "And I believe I can see more than most players. My eyes are my ears, also, so they are well developed."

And another thing, when opposing players get to whispering about plays Monaghan can sometimes read their lips.

He attended the school for the deaf and dumb at Jackson, Miss., where he starred in athletics. He then went to Gallatin College, Washington, D.C., where he was a four-letter man.

This is his first season as a professional athlete.

"Prof. Peters, quarterback of the Tigers and former University of Illinois football star, is Bibbo's buddy. 'Frosty' gives him the signals in which Peters takes a special interest to see that Monaghan understands what is to come next."

Bibbo can't hear the referee's whistle, so, he has no chance of "always hold the guy till I'm sure," he says. "Most of the times I know when the whistle has blown, by seeing the other players stop."

One Reason Whaling Trade Has Declined

Sale Of Articles Containing Spermaceti Has Fallen Off

One of the reasons for curtailment of whaling operations off the Pacific coast during the last two seasons is that women are showing preference for articles that do not contain spermaceti in a treasured article of world trade.

This is the opinion of William Schupp, president of Consolidated Whaling Corporation, which operates the only fleet of whaling vessels out of British Columbia ports.

Spermaceti in the wax was found in the head cavities and blubber of the sperm whale and this product was once used almost exclusively in the manufacture of women's face creams and other cosmetics. The substance is also used for making candier of standard photographic films, the dressing of fabrics, in medicines and surgery, and especially in cerates, plasters, ointments and in cosmetic preparations.

Whatever the reason, the market for spermaceti and sperm oil is now very low. The north Pacific has been the worst whaling area in the world, according to Mr. Schupp. From 50 to 60 per cent of the world's supply of spermaceti comes from the Queen Charlotte Islands stations.

Wants To Trade Stamps

Boy Patient In Victoria Hospital Writes To King George

Little Robert Guay, who is a cot patient in the Queen Alexandra Hospital, not far from Victoria, B.C., wants King George to swap stamps with him.

Bobby is starting a collection and he has some extra stamps he wants to exchange. He heard the other day that King George has one of the best collections in the world and he decided to put him on his list. So he wrote the following letter:

"Dear King George V: I am sending you these stamps to see if it would like to swap some of yours for them."

"The Solarium is a nice place and it is facing the sea. I have a bed. I have been here quite a while. Junior is in the next bed to me. He has a bad back. We are getting better. I hope you are fine."

"I hope you will like the stamps. If you have them already you can trade them for some others."

"Will good wishes, yours truly, "Robert Guay."

Bobby is quite confident that the King will reply. He thinks it quite natural that he should write to his Majesty.

Untouchables Live Lower Than Beasts

Caste Lines Have Been Maintained In India Thousands Of Years Ago

There are four sharply divided Hindu castes and each of these is split into hundreds of sects, equally sharply divided. For thousands of years, through countless generations, these caste lines have been maintained in all their rigidity.

For example, the Brahmins, or "earthly gods," whose priests have a monopoly in the Hindu temples.

Second are the Kshatriyas, or fighting men.

Third are the Vaishyas, or tillers of the soil. (Gandhi was born into this caste.)

Fourth are the Sudras, or servants.

Beneath all these come India's 60,000,000 "untouchables," lowest of the low. They are doomed by Hindu law to the chains of mental and spiritual slavery for life, and so are their children as well as they.

For no "untouchable" or his children may ever rise above his lowly station. His only hope is in reincarnation.

For thousands of years, the untouchables have been kept on a higher caste when he next appears on earth. This he asks in his prayers.

Cruel and brutal by centuries of oppression and discrimination, many of these 60,000,000 outcasts live lower than the beasts of the field. Some of them live on carrion, or on rats and snakes.

For many of the untouchables are permitted to hold only such low positions as scavengers, sewer cleaners, street sweepers.

If a Hindu Brahmin mentions the name of an "untouchable" he must stop after doing so. If the latter's shadow should chance to fall upon him the Brahmin must perform an elaborate "purification rite" conducted by the priests of the temple, so that he may be cleansed in body and soul.

If the "untouchable" desires to buy from a shop-keeper of higher caste he must not enter the store. From some distance away, he shouts to the shop-keeper what he wants, places his few precious coins on the ground and then waits for the shop-keeper to come out with the purchase, place it upon the ground, picks up the money.

These are the people for whom Gandhi went on his extraordinary non-violent strike. Not only did the wisest little prophet of India's new age seek to show better recognition for them, but he also sought to smash the injustice practiced upon them by their own people by means of the caste boycott. Two hundred years before Christ, India's great King Asoka tried to do the same thing that Gandhi is doing in 1928.

But whether it is to be done by Christ, India's great King Asoka tried to do the same thing that Gandhi is doing in 1928. But whether it is to be done by Christ, India's great King Asoka tried to do the same thing that Gandhi is doing in 1928. But whether it is to be done by Christ, India's great King Asoka tried to do the same thing that Gandhi is doing in 1928.

The preparation has been tested with success by doctors not only upon themselves but upon patients.

The new preparation is said to be effective for those forms of anemia in which iron, which does not include pernicious anemia.

Agreement Reached At Ottawa Conference May Have Beneficial Effect On Hog Industry In Canada

Since the Ottawa Economic Conference events appear to be steadily moving forward towards making effective the agreements reached there, Principal among the agreements are those affecting livestock and animal products.

The principle adopted by the United Kingdom for the control of her markets for meats is "limitation of imports." This system of limitation of imports is being applied to all the important classes of meats—beef, lamb and mutton, bacon and hams, and certain classes of by-products.

In Canada, more has been said about the agreement as it affects bacon. However, it would appear that the information by British to limit the importations of all meats, is the really big fact to grasp. It is this fact that gives the assignment by the United Kingdom to Canada of 280,000,000 pounds of bacon a meaning and significance.

From the standpoint of the Canadian livestock industry, the information is tantamount to the fact that, then, they apply to all classes of meats, should be known. It would appear that the United Kingdom, at the Conference, the principle of assignment to each Dominion what the most important products in each Dominion were to be with reference to the meat trade. The United Kingdom, in this instance, was most interested. This, however, does not limit the effect on any particular meat to the Dominion in which the United Kingdom considered her policy. The agreements should be viewed as a whole in order to understand the policy adopted by the United Kingdom.

The agreements apply to certain classes of meats, but for some time British has had restriction of imports of other classes of meats. These restrictions are mostly based on protection of the health of British livestock. In practice the restrictions control imports of live cattle and other meat animals to those from Ireland and Canada. Imports of fresh meats from Europe are embargoed, which practically limits this import trade to the Irish Free State. These restrictions, then, already limit imports of fresh meats and live animals from other countries. The policy declared by the United Kingdom at Ottawa will limit the importations of these latter classes of meats.

The policy declared by the United Kingdom with regard to livestock and animal products may be summarized thus:

Live Cattle—removal of restrictions on imports of Canadian commercial cattle and, in part, on the stock which may be used for breeding.

Chilled and Frozen Beef—regulation of imports from foreign countries on the basis of an agreement reached with Australia.

Chilled Mutton and Lamb—regulation of imports from foreign countries from Australia (for the purpose of an agreement reached with Australia and New Zealand).

Bacon and Hams—declaration to undertake the regulation of imports of bacon and hams and, on the basis of an agreement reached with Canada, to guarantee free entry for up to 2,500,000 cwt. per annum of Canadian bacon and hams of good quality (280,000,000 lbs.).

The adoption, by the United Kingdom, of what would appear to be a most momentous policy, was the result of a series of events and conditions. European importing countries and America had steadily been raising barriers of various kinds against the importation of animal products. Great Britain remained the only open market. Therefore, all those countries that had formerly been exporting a part, or the bulk of their products to Britain, and all the exporting countries which had not formerly sent product there in quantity, were forced to concentrate more and more of their surplus on the market.

In addition, production particularly of bacon and mutton heavily increased. The collapse of grain prices which gave European bacon producers very cheap feed for hogs in 1930 and 1931 induced large increases in production, not only in the countries that had formerly been supplying the bulk of British imports, but also in the countries that lately had been forced to send their bacon to Britain. Furthermore, the new countries to enter the British bacon market, such as Poland, Estonia, Lithuania, Latvia and Holland, in order to develop the proper kind of hog and establish themselves on the British market adopted various schemes of government subsidies.

Britain's declared policy gives an aspect to the future which deserves the closest study and consideration. Present prices for bacon and hogs are so low as to be extremely discouraging. If the future is to be judged only by present price conditions, there is no prospect of the industry in all countries will die. But it is these conditions which led the United Kingdom to determine on the policy which was declared at Ottawa. Apart altogether from that declared policy, present price conditions, viewed in their proper light, are certain indications of better prices in the future.

Under extreme conditions, such as at present, the industries best suited to certain countries always survive. Canada is one of the countries that has the natural conditions for the survival of the hog industry. The policy declared by the Government of the United Kingdom is intended to favor the survival of the hog industry of Canada.

New National Park Planned United States Rigidly Enforcing Restrictions

Two Sites On Vancouver Island Are Being Considered

Establishment of a new national park in British Columbia is being considered by the Canadian and provincial governments, and F. M. Ward, chief engineer of the federal parks branch, has been on the coast recently laying the groundwork for such a project.

Garibaldi Mountain is favorably regarded as a site for the new park, although the parks branch is said to be eager to establish a sea level park to complete its trans-Canada park system. For the latter purpose a park site on the west coast of Vancouver Island is being considered. The only other national park on Vancouver Island is Strathcona, which, however, is mountainous and somewhat inaccessible.

Colonel W. W. Foster, member of the Mount Logan expedition, of several years ago and one of the best known mountaineers in Canada, has completed a report on the Garibaldi project, and this has been sent to Ottawa.

How Cancer Begins

Everyone Should Know the Symptoms and Receive Early Treatment

Cancer never begins as cancer. Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, cancer research worker of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, told the Ottawa Medical Chirurgical Society.

"It begins as a single spot," he said, "and the normal cells of that spot are changed to abnormal cells, which are not cancer cells."

Chronic irritation, injury or pre-existing lumps such as warts or moles and unhealed wounds anywhere are the site in which cancer develops, the doctor continued.

It was important that everyone should know the symptoms, signs of little things that are not cancer but which may become cancer and the earliest stages of cancer are identical.

"On this fundamental advice rests the action of having an immediate examination after the first warning," he declared.

Dr. Bloodgood told his audience warning signs of cancer. He said that cancer of the breast run to more than a 25 per cent. risk that attempts to cure them will fail, while those who defer examination through ignorance reduce their chances of cure to 10 per cent. or less.

A semi-annual examination of mothers, he said, would permit detection of spots in the cervix which are not cancer but which may become cancer and are the earliest stages of cancer. Radium treatment could then be used to cure a large percentage of the cases.

Under present conditions, he declared, most mothers seeking examination for cancer of the cervix had the disease in such an advanced stage that there was so more than a 10 per cent. chance of cure.

A Prosperous Town

Full-Time Job For Every Man In Cortina, B.C.

Which is the most prosperous town in Canada?

According to Thomas Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, B.C., the nominal answer should go to Cortina, B.C. Every man in the town has a full-time job. Cortina is a coal mine town, and although the mine employs only 300, there are more than 100 automobiles there. The town incidentally is the only place in British Columbia where not a dollar of unemployment relief money has so far been spent.

But just a few miles away, at Fernie, B.C., is one of the poorest towns from the economic standpoint, according to Uphill. The city is unable to meet its one-third share of unemployment relief; already it is in arrears.

Mr. Uphill created a sensation at that session of the legislature by proposing that the government should raise money by selling titles. Wealthy men would be eager to pay a stated sum for a provincial kingdom, he said.

U.S. Farm Population

Many Return To The Land As a Result Of Hard Times

Hard times have resulted in a trek "back to the land" in the United States, statistics issued by the Department of Agriculture reveal. Present farm population of the country is estimated at 32,000,000, an increase of about 2,000,000 in three years.

Farm population in the United States reached a peak in 1910, the department says, when it was 32,077,000. Thereafter it steadily declined for twenty years as country families moved into the towns to share the benefits of the long industrial boom. United States citizens living on the land numbered 31,570,000 in 1920 and 30,095,000 at the start of 1930. The Lake which, having no outlet, is strongly alkaline. Sounding Creek section, just published by the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, shows a considerable length of the creek from which it is named.
